A distinguished guest chair, complement to the Cadence family of seating, this chair achieves a fine balance between traditional and contemporary design motifs. Its scale is slightly larger than is typical, providing a more substantial presence and an ample comfort zone. In particular, Cadence's higher back makes it appropriate for dining and hospitality settings in addition to office applications.

Cadence features elements that are relatively unique in guest seating. A contoured seat and back, fitted to the human form, provides exceptional long-term sitting comfort and an attractive profile. Also unique is a coil-sprung suspension system in the seat, further enhancing this chair's feel and durability. Cadence is available in Maple and Cherry hardwoods and a range of standard and custom finishes. Upholstery options are limitless and include Krug's extensive range of in-stock fabrics and leathers, as well as custom selections.
